Franklin D. Roosevelt,
c/o Fidelity and Deposit Company
of Maryland,
55 Liberty St.,
New York City.

Sir:

Receipt is acknowledged of your communication dated September 8, 1928, relative to adjustment of loss suffered in connection with motor boat purchased by you in 1923 and damaged by Florida hurricane in September 1926.

In connection therewith, you are advised that the loss suffered thereby is deductible under storm and inasmuch as the transaction in question was closed in 1927, the loss suffered will be deductible on return for that year. However, in arriving at loss to be taken, it is necessary that you consider depreciation for the period of time from the date of purchase to the date of completion of salvage.

Respectfully,

CYRUS DUREY,
Collector.

Sir:-

Receipt is acknowledged of TENTATIVE RETURN for the Calendar Year 1927. Under the provision of Section 227 of the Revenue Act of 1926 (T. D. 3827) extension of time in which to file COMPLETED RETURN is granted to MAY 15, 1928. If the estimated tax is less than shown to be due on the completed return the difference will bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum until paid.

Respectfully,

D. H. BLAIR,
Commissioner.

My dear Mr. Klein:

I am enclosing copy of letter which I have sent today to the Collector in Albany. I think it gives all the facts. Except for this there is no reason why the 1927 return cannot be sent right in.

Thank you for forwarding my report for 1926.

Very truly yours,

R.EM

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt
c/o Fidelity and Deposit Co.
55 Liberty St.
New York, N.Y.

I have forwarded your report for the year 1926 and there is every indication that there will be a substantial refund.

But this morning I received from the Department orders that you had forgotten to file your final return for the year 1927. Although I misunderstood you at the time, it comes to me now that you said something in reference to your 1927 return.

Now I assume that the question is all about the pleasure boat that was lost. Please try to forward to the Collector of Internal Revenue, Albany, NY. a letter setting forth all the data as to, original cost, subsequent improvements, date of the destruction of the craft and the date of the final settlement, that is to say, the sale of same, the salvage price received and state your reason for carrying the loss into the year of 1927; was because of the inability of securing any settlement with the insurance company, stating that it was decided, as I understood you to say, that you did not receive any insurance.

Please try, and send this letter up to the Collector asking for a ruling to be returned to you at once so that I may help you to complete your 1927 return if all right with you, on Monday next.

Respectfully

Collector of Internal Revenue
Albany, New York

My dear Sir:

My final return for the year 1927 is ready but there arises one rather interesting question which I, as a lawyer, am not certain about nor am I certain that any definite ruling has been made in a similar case by the Department. The facts are these.

In 1923 I purchased a small old cruising motor boat in New York, put in new engines and put her in condition to use, the total capital outlay being $7,100., and she was then sent to Florida. The purpose in doing this was not primarily for pleasure, but was on the recommendation of my doctors that I swim daily in the water south of Miami where there is no surf in order to recuperate from the effects of an attack of infantile paralysis.

During the early months of 1924, 1925 and 1926 I used her for this purpose and on occasions rented her out in order to cut down, as much as possible, the cost of what was essentially medical treatment for my legs.

In the Florida hurricane in September, 1926, the boat was lying up the Fort Lauderdale River out of commission. She was insured for $7,000., but only against fire. The storm carried her far inland, dropped her in the middle of a pine forest and broke her back. A survey showed that she could not be returned to navigable water as the distance was too great and she would have had to have been completely rebuilt. This constituted, therefore, a complete loss, less the salvage.

During the remainder of 1926 I endeavored to sell her and was unable to do so until April 1927. The amount received for salvage was $350. and the total net loss on the capital outlay was, therefore, $6,750.

The questions involved are:

1. Is this a deductible loss under the head of "storm"?
2. If it is should the loss be made under the 1926 return or under the 1927 return?

Very truly yours,

R.EM

Re: Federal Income Tax Return.
Year 1927.

The Collector of Internal Revenue at Albany, NY. is pressing me for the final return to be filed by you for the year 1927.

It is requested by the Department that if a correct final return cannot be executed, it is desired that the taxpayer file the best final return possible, in order that the records may be closed by the end of the year.

I am instructed to obtain this final return or that same be mailed to the Collector at Albany, NY. not later than December 20th. 1928.

Please give this matter your immediate attention. If it is so desired I will call at your residence at Hyde Park, NY. early Monday morning to give you what assistance I may.

Respectfully,
